THE BEST OF BOTH WORLD!

FUSION, a new series of taps made of engineering polymers and brass. Making use of the inherent properties and strength of both materials. The body is made of brass, the solid feel of brass convey a sense of high value and luxury. The shut off mechanism is made of engineering polymer, the most durable material for this type of application. Meeting all international standards (BS5412 and EN200). 2 million of these patented mechanisms are manufactured yearly and have been in use for the past 15 years with proven performance.

material

cost effective

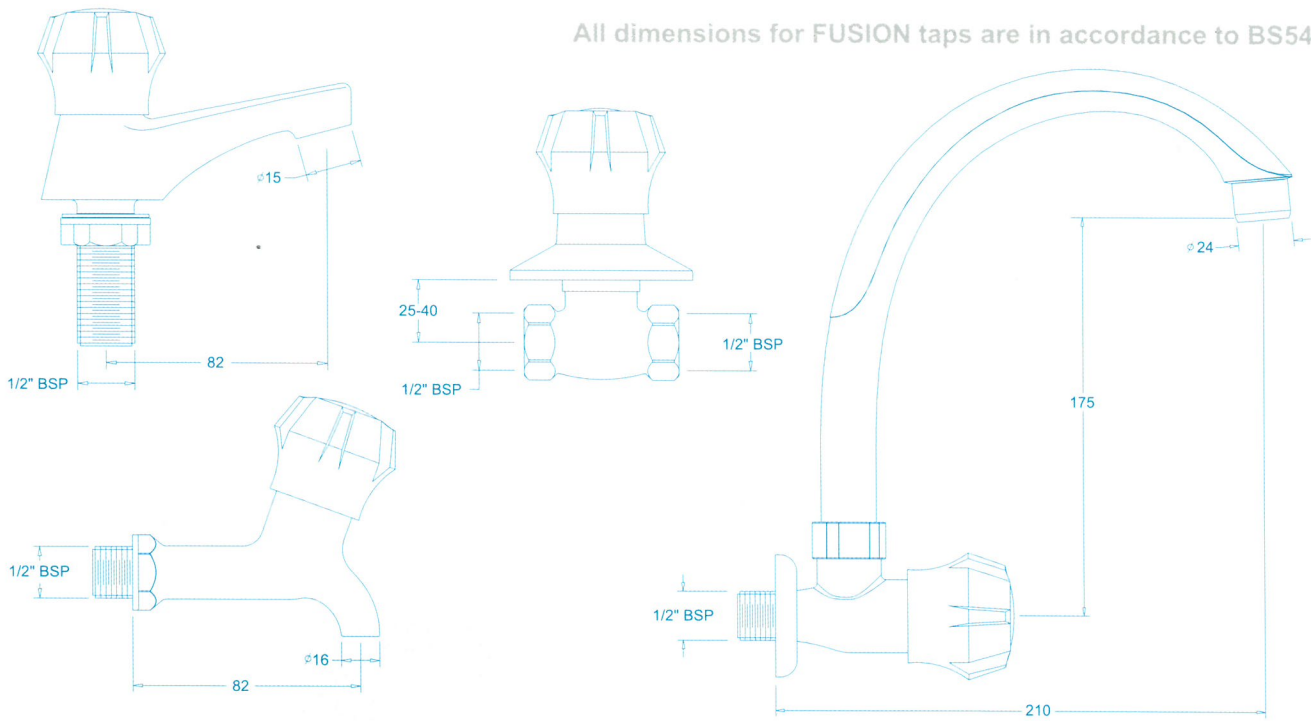

Polymer parts are used to construct the heart of the tap. The superior wear resistance of acetal and the ability to keep tight tolerances with large volume production ensures repeatable quality at minimal cost. Non load bearing parts of the taps are replaced with engineering polymers to provide further cost savings.

ease of maintenance

Many end users have encountered difficulty in changing leaking seals of full brass taps as manufacturer tends to overtighten to prevent leakage. Furthermore brass parts have a tendency to corrode under saline condition that 'freezes' up the tap and make maintenance difficult. With the introduction of engineering polymer, the parts are precision moulded and therefore require minimal assembly force to maintain tight and leak free joints. This makes disassembly easier for maintenance purposes.

technical specification

All dimensions for FUSION taps are in accordance to BS5412.

flow rate test

All FUSION taps have exceeded the BS5412 hydraulic characteristic test: 7.5 liter/min with running pressure of 0.1 bar.

endurance test

Our taps have passed the BS5412 mechanical endurance test. The taps are cycle tested opening & closing using hot and cold water alternatively for periods of 15 minutes for 200,000 cycles. The spout swiveling action for wall sink tap was tested for 80,000 cycles with a turning angle of 110°. After these stringent tests, the taps undergo watertightness test with pressures set below. The results are reassuring, all taps having passed with flying colours with no permanent distortion or leakage.

PE-RT

WATERTEC

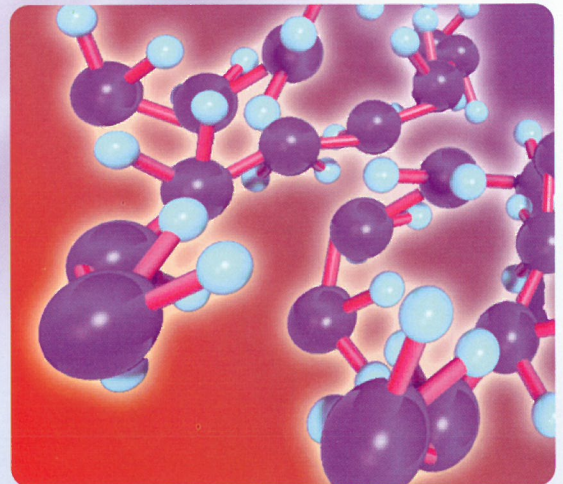

Simply Better

Introducing the PE-RT pipe system, a pipe system that easy to use, light weight, easy to cut to required length, strong and durable. Bending and flexibility ensures easier handling and faster installation.

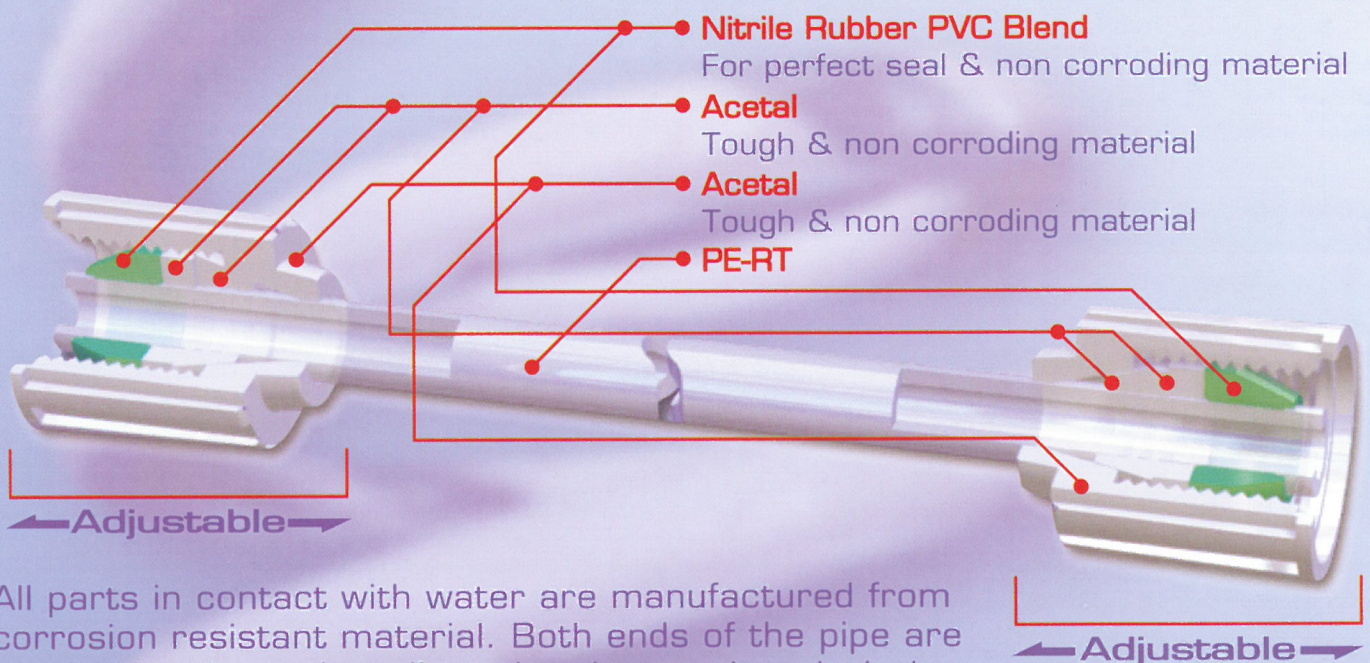

PE-RT pipe is manufactured from a special blend of Polyethylene, having a unique molecular structure with a controlled side chain distribution without being cross-linked. This provides a very strong polymer that gives high performance in terms of heat and pressures.

This material which is made by LG Chemicals, SP980 with NSF approval, has very good resistance to chemicals and is unaffected by varying pH levels. It can withstand maximum tested pressures 35 bar at 25°C and 25 bar at 95°C. Suggested for long life operating conditions under ISO 22391 Class2, 10 bar Max Temp 85°C.

PE stands for Polyethylene and RT for Raising Temperature resistance. The material's chemical abbreviation is PE-RT.

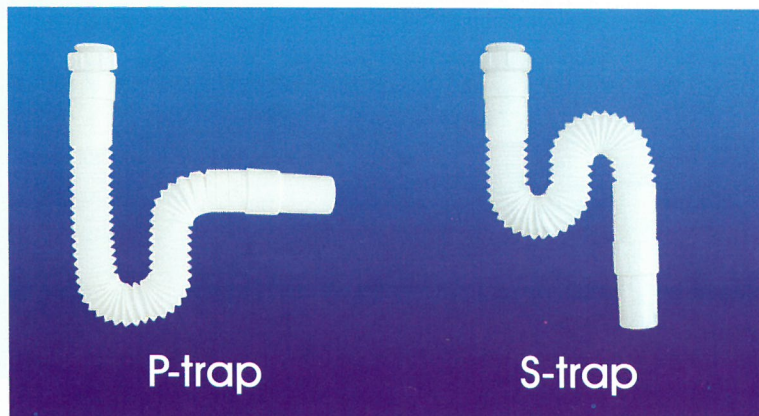

All parts in contact with water are manufactured from corrosion resistant material. Both ends of the pipe are not fixed so it can be adjusted and cut to length during installation. The lock nut grooves provide grip to hand tighten it without using any tool.

Uni-Trap

flexible waste trap system

WATERTEC
Simply Better

New flexible waste trap system for easier & quicker installation

Can be folded to form S-trap or P-trap to suit requirements

Flexible enough to allow installation on misaligned outlet hole

BEFORE

- Too many parts
- Fixed inlet & outlet position
- Difficult to install
- Joint at the center of the trap, higher risk of leakage.

NOW

- Less parts, no joint on the trap, no leakage.

EASY TO MAINTAIN

Maintenance is easy. Simply pull out the waste outlet and flush with running water to clear all clogging.
